

43 (p. 161)

The vanguard of our yak caravan making its way to the summit of the Khe-chhag Nye-ra (pass) 13200 feet elevation. Between La-brang and the Sog-wo A-rig encampment. May 8th 1926

44 (p. 165)

The Yellow River gorge at the mouth of the Go-chhen (left), five miles south of Tsanggar (monastery), elevation 10200 feet. The trees are Picea asperata Mast. Note the fierce rapids. Looking due south up stream.